

Karin Pharès

has a degree of Master of Arts in Education as well as a Master Programme in The Process of Development and Change. For the last 18 years she has in different settings been seeking collaborations with kids, youngsters and their families.